

TALS' Annual Conference on Research and Teaching Pre-Conference Workshop
Monday, February 19, 2018 - Tuesday, February 20, 2018

A People's History of Leisure Studies:

Framing the Discussion Around Race & Ethnicity to Advance Leisure Research

Workshop Presenters

Myron Floyd
North Carolina State University

Rasul Mowatt
Indiana University

Harrison Pinckney, IV
Clemson University

Corliss Outley
Texas A&M University

Ed Gomez
East Carolina University

Kang-Jae "Jerry" Lee
North Carolina State University

WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

This pre-conference workshop will facilitate focused and intensive discussion of historic and contemporary themes related to Race and ethnicity in recreation. Race and ethnicity will be situated in an Americas-specific (Canada, US, Central America, South America, and Caribbean) context as well as a larger global context. This workshop will conclude with exploring directions for advancing scholarship and practice that seeks to promote Racial equity and social justice.

WORKSHOP DETAILS

Registration Rate: Faculty $100; PhD Students $50;

MS Students $35; Undergraduates $15

Includes: Meals, Conference Materials

Lodging: Courtyard Indianapolis at the Capitol

-conference rates have been extended for the workshop

RSVP: Harrison Pinckney, IV (hpinckn@clemson.edu)

